

Global wins Aviation Security Contract for Iceland Express

New York – June 1, 2010 — Beginning today, Iceland Express has engaged Global Elite Group to provide security services for its flights at Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR).

Iceland Express is a low-fare airline headquartered in Reykjavík, Iceland. It operates services to 17 destinations in Europe using leased aircraft. Its main base is Keflavík International Airport.

The new flights to Newark Liberty International Airport will serve as the airline's first flights across the Atlantic and to the USA. Iceland Express will operate four weekly flights between Newark Liberty International Airport and Keflavík International Airport in Reykjavik.

Global will work closely with Iceland Express' Aviation Security Department and the Newark Airport Management team to provide specialist functions including:

- Aircraft Security
- Ramp Security
- Catering Security
- Baggage Security

Working with its aviation clients, Global has been recognized for its unique approach to providing custom security solutions. Global provides customer oriented professional services and ensures that effective security and regulatory compliance is delivered.
