

Global continues growing relationship with Emirates

July 15, 2010 New York — Beginning today Emirates has engaged Global Elite Group to provide security services for its flights at John F. Kennedy International Airport.

Emirates Airline is the largest major airline in the Middle East. It is the national airline of Dubai, United Arab Emirates and operates over 2400 passenger flights per week. Emirates was the first airline to operate commercial services to JFK with its state of the art Airbus A380 aircraft.

Global has been providing services to Emirates in Houston (IAH) and Los Angeles (LAX) since inception of those routes. The addition of a third location in the US signifies a successful growth of the relationship between the two companies.

Global will work closely with Emirates' Aviation Security Department and the JFK Airport Management team to provide specialist functions.

Working with its aviation clients, Global has been recognized for its unique approach to providing custom security solutions. Global provides customer oriented professional services and ensures that effective security and regulatory compliance is delivered.
